-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reinhall (US Patent 5,042,726).

The device of Reinhall teaches the limitations of the claimed invention including an inner rotary refining member including an outwardly facing conical surface (12 and 14) and a second refining member comprising an outer stationary refining member including an inwardly facing conical surface (11 and 13) mounted in juxtaposition with said first refining member whereby said conical surfaces face either other and define a refining gap therebetween for refining said lignocellulosic fibrous material, said refining element adapted for mounting on said inwardly facing conical surface and including a plurality of bars (34) and intermediate grooves (35), said plurality of bars extending along said refining gap including a pair of side walls (fig.3) and an upper surface (fig. 3), said upper surface forming an acute angle with at least one of said pair of side surfaces (fig.3—see marked copy, Note: the upper surface forms an acute angle with one side of the surface) and the upper surfaces forms acute angle with both of the pair of side surfaces.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reinhall.

Reinhall teaches most of the elements of the claimed invention, except for the acute angle between 50° to 90° , 60° to 90° , 70° to 90° and at least one side surface includes at least about on-third portion of the total height of the. Regarding claims 6-8, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have the acute angle of the upper surface of Reinhall between the claimed angles, noted above, and at least one side surface having least about on-third portion of the total height of the bars for the purpose of allowing a simultaneous adjustment of the width of the gap spaces between the rotatable and stationary refining members.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Bena Miller whose telephone number is 571.272.4427. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday.
